Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, move in a manner the sluggish current, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penna., writes:

Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,

GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, April 25, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, I can certify this from my experience of it.

Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates st.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,

Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours, truly,

E. D. FENDALL.

SUNSET AND TWILIGHT.

Shades of evening, calm and lovely,
Gently o'er us now they glide;
Light clouds, that seem like guardian angels,
As they o'er the surface ride.

And the glorious sun has sunk,
Far behind the Western hills—
Oh how diligent and earnest,
He his daily course fulfills.

Deeper, bluer, even darker,
Still they bear a loyal hue,
See! how calmly and serenely,
Fades the golden into blue.

The queen of night, so beautiful,
Is rising full and clear,
Onward she steers her silver car,
Majestic, calm and fair.

Now, ten thousand twinkling stars,
Illume the sky above,
And methinks, as Poets say,
Moon-light hours were made for love.

EXPLORATION OF THE NILE TRIBUTARIES OF ABYSSINIA. By Sir S. W. BAKER. 8vo. pp. 608. Hartford: O. D. Case & Co.

Few recent books of travel have gained so large a degree of public interest and favor among intelligent readers in Great Britain, as this admirable record of scientific exploration, geographical discovery, and personal adventure. The author, Sir WILLIAM BAKER, is a wealthy English gentleman, an experienced traveller, an enthusiastic and skilful hunter and explorer, who in 1861, in company with his wife, left Cairo to explore the mystery which enshrouded the sources of the Nile. A previous work of the author on the "Great Basin of the Nile," gives a complete account of the equatorial lake system from which the famous Egyptian river derives its origin. It is shown in that volume that the rainfall of the equatorial districts supplies two vast lakes of sufficient magnitude to support the Nile throughout its entire course through the burning sands of the desert until it reaches the Delta of Lower Egypt. The present work is devoted to another system of tributaries, with an origin entirely separate from the lake sources of Central Africa, and supplying the water for the overflow on which the fertility of Egypt depends. The portion of Africa which was explored by the author in the course of his geographical researches in regard to the Abyssinian tributaries, is inhabited by Christian and Mohammedan races, and affords abundant materials for a series of vivid pictures which lend a peculiar charm to his work, apart from its value and interest in a scientific point of view. Many of these describe his sporting adventures, which he evidently pursued with the keen relish of a British Nimrod. We annex a graphic description of one of his early encounters with a crocodile:

"A few days before our arrival, a man had been snatched from the back of his camel while crossing, and was carried off by a crocodile. Another man had been taken during the last week, while swimming the river upon a log. It was supposed that these accidents were due to the same crocodile, who was accustomed to bask upon a mud bank at the foot of the cotton plantation. On the day following our arrival at the Atbara, we found that our camel-drivers had absconded during the night with their camels; these were the men who had been forced to serve by the Governor of Cassia. There was no possibility of proceeding for some days, therefore I sent El Baggar across the river to endeavor to engage camels, while I devoted myself to a search for the crocodile. I shortly discovered that it was unfair in the extreme to charge one particular animal with the death of the two Arabs, as several large crocodiles were lying upon the mud in various places. A smaller one was lying asleep high and dry upon the bank: the wind was blowing strong, so that, by carefully approaching, I secured a good shot within thirty yards, and killed it on the spot by a bullet through the head, placed about an inch above the eyes.

"After some time, the large crocodiles which had taken to the water at the report of the gun again appeared, and crawled slowly out of the muddy river to their basking-places upon the bank. A crocodile usually sleeps with its mouth wide open; I therefore waited until the immense jaws of the nearest were well expanded, showing a grand row of glittering teeth, when I crept carefully toward it through the garden of thickly-planted cotton. Bacheet and Wat Gamma followed in great eagerness. In a short time I arrived within about forty yards of the beast, as it lay upon a flat mud bank formed by one of the numerous torrents that had carried down the soil during the storm of yesterday. The cover ceased, and it was impossible to approach nearer without alarming the crocodile; it was a fine specimen, apparently nineteen or twenty feet in length, and I took a steady shot with the little Fletcher rifle at the temple, exactly in front of the point of union of the head with the spine. The jaws clashed together, and a convulsive start, followed by a twitching of the tail, led me to suppose that sudden death had succeeded the shot; but knowing the peculiar tenacity of life possessed by the crocodile, I fired another shot at the shoulder, as the huge body lay so close to the river's edge that the slightest struggle would cause it to disappear. To my surprise, this shot, far from producing a quietus, gave rise to a series of extraordinary convulsive struggles. One moment it rolled upon its back, lashed out right and left, with its tail, and ended by topping over into the river.

"In a short time we saw the body of the crocodile appear belly upward, about fifty yards down the stream; the fore paws were above the water, but after rolling round several times it once more disappeared, rapidly carried away by the muddy torrent. This was quite enough for the Arabs, who had been watching the event from the opposite bank of the river, and the report quickly spread that two crocodiles were killed, one of which they declared to be the public enemy that had taken the men at the ferry, but upon what evidence I cannot understand. Although my Arabs looked forward to a dinner of crocodile flesh, I was obliged to search for something of rather milder flavor for ourselves. I waited for about an hour, while the first crocodile was being divided, when I took a shot gun and succeeded in killing three geese, and a species of antelope no larger than a hare, known by the Arabs as the Dikdik (Nanotragus Hemprichianus.). This little creature inhabits thick bush. Since my return to England, I have seen a good specimen in the Zoological Gardens of the Regent's Park.

"Upon my arrival at the tents, I found the camp redolent of musk from the flesh of the crocodile, and the people were quarrelling for the musk glands, which they had extracted, and which are much prized by the Arab women, who wear them strung like beads upon a necklace.

"Throughout the Atbara, crocodiles are extremely mischievous and bold; this can be accounted for by the constant presence of Arabs and their flocks, which the crocodiles have ceased to fear, as they exact a heavy tribute in their frequent passages of the river. The Arabs asserted that the dark-colored, thick-bodied species is more to be dreaded than the other.

"The common belief that the scales of a crocodile will stop a bullet is very erroneous. If a rifle is loaded with the moderate charge of two and a half drachms, it will throw an ounce ball through the scales of the hardest portion of the back; but were the scales struck obliquely, the bullet might possibly glance from the surface, as in like manner it would ricochet from the surface of water. The crocodile is so difficult to kill outright, that people are apt to imagine that the scales have resisted their bullets. The only shots that will produce instant death are those that strike the brain, or the spine through the neck. A shot through the shoulder is fatal, but as the body immediately sinks, and does not re-appear upon the surface until the gases have distended the carcass, the game is generally carried away by the stream before it has had time to float. The body of a crocodile requires from twelve to eighteen hours before it will rise to the surface, while that of the hippopotamus will never remain longer than two hours beneath the water, and will generally rise in an hour and a half after death. This difference in time depends upon the depth and temperature; in deep holes of the river from thirty to fifty feet deep the water is much cooler near the bottom; hence the gas is not generated in the body so quickly as in shallow and warmer water. The crocodile is not a grass-feeder; therefore the stomach is comparatively small, and the contents do not generate the amount of gas, that so quickly distends the huge stomach of the hippopotamus; thus the body of the former requires a longer period before it will rise to the surface."

We must make room for the author's account of his successful renconter with a veteran hippopotamus, with his excellent description of the habits of that strange aquatic monster:

"After walking about two miles, we noticed a herd of hippopotami in a pool below a rapid: this was surrounded by rocks, except one side where the rush of water had thrown up a bank of pebbles and sand. Our old Neptune did not condescend to bestow the slightest attention when I pointed out these animals; they were too wide awake; but he immediately quitted the river's bed, and we followed him quietly behind the fringe of bushes upon the border, from which we carefully examined the water. About half a mile below this spot, as we clambered over the intervening rocks through a gorge which formed a powerful rapid, I observed in a small pool just below the rapid, an immense head of a hippopotamus close to a perpendicular rock that formed a wall to the river, about six feet above the surface. I pointed out the hippo to old Abou Do, who had not seen it. At once the gravity of the old Arab disappeared, and the energy of the hunter was exhibited as he motioned us to remain, while he ran nimbly behind the thick screen of bushes for about a hundred and fifty yards below the spot where the hippo was unconsciously basking, with his ugly head above the surface. Plunging into the rapid torrent, the veteran hunter was carried some distance down the stream, but breasting the powerful current, he landed upon the rocks on the opposite side, and retiring to some distance from the river, he quickly advanced toward the spot beneath which the hippopotamus was lying. I had a fine view of the scene, as I was lying concealed exactly opposite the

THE PRESIDENCY.

While the Republicans are closing up their ranks, with unusual harmony and enthusiasm, under the lead of GRANT and COLFAX, the Democracy are in a "peck of trouble." Their Convention meets in New York on the 4th of July, and the effort all round is to scare up a candidate for President of sufficient strength to make a decent show in contesting the field with the conqueror of the Rebellion. Thus far GRANT bids fair to walk over the course, without serious competition. The trouble lies in the fact that the Democratic party is hopelessly divided, the various factions waging a bitter warfare upon each other; and the leaders, since the nomination of GRANT and COLFAX, have been nervously casting about for candidates acceptable to the various factions.

PENDLETON, of Ohio, is the favorite of the West and the original simon pure Copperhead wing of the party, who sympathized with the South during the Rebellion and opposed the War. He is probably their strongest man—possessed of fair abilities—has never concealed his opposition to the War, and will command the enthusiastic support of the rank and file who have been thoroughly indoctrinated with the treasonable utterances and repudiation tendencies of the Copperhead presses.

On the other hand, the War Democracy, lead by Gen. HALPINE, of the New York Citizen, oppose PENDLETON'S nomination as the forerunner of sure defeat—denounce him as a Copperhead, whose nomination four years ago was a dead weight and accomplished the defeat of MCCLELLAN—and demand the nomination of HANCOCK as a concession to the soldiers, and the only possible means of staying the popular tide running so strongly in favor of GRANT. A pseudo Soldier's Convention has been called to meet in New York, in the interest of HANCOCK, and to press his nomination on the Convention.

To which movement the PENDLETON men reply with indignant protests as a swindle and selling out of the principles of the party—that it was not PENDLETON'S weakness that lost the election in 1864, but the bungling work of the Chicago Convention in putting MCCLELLAN at the head of the ticket and ignoring the true issues of the day—and that the nomination of HANCOCK, while it might be a sop to some so-called War Democrats, would be but a repetition of the Chicago blunder, which the rank and file will never submit to. BRICK POMEROY denounces HANCOCK as a "military satrap," a "butcher," whose hands are stained with the blood of Southern patriots, who helped to murder Mrs. SURRATT, and who never can receive the support of the Democratic party; while VALANDINGHAM, through his organ, gives fair notice to Gen. HALPINE and his co-laborers in the HANCOCK movement, that there are more than 1,500,000 peace Democrats, who will never agree to support any man whose record is not a clean one as to all participation in the War to subjugate the Southern States, and that the nomination of a simon pure Peace Democrat—in other words an unadulterated Copperhead—can alone command the confidence and votes of the tried men who fought Black Republicanism throughout the WAR.

In view of these complications, various caucuses have been held at New York and Washington during the last month, by noted Democratic wire-workers, who care little for principle but much for spoils, to "fix up" matters, if possible. Various names have been suggested by way of compromise, but as fast as one caucus fixes up the slate, another rubs it out. Gov. SEYMOUR, of New York, Gov. ENGLISH of Connecticut, Senator HENDRICKS of Indiana, Gen. BLAIR of Missouri, have each in turn been pronounced the "coming man," but laid aside as unavailable. The latest and queerest turn of the cards is in favor of Chief Justice CHASE, who since the Impeachment trial, for some reason or other, has become quite a favorite with the managing politicians. Long identified with the anti-slavery movement—an abolitionist from principle—an early and avowed advocate of universal suffrage—the father of the National Bank system—probably no man in the Republic has been more soundly abused than he by the Copperhead press. It would be a queer turn of the political tables if Mr. CHASE were now selected as the leader of a pro-slavery, anti-universal suffrage, anti-national bank, repudiating Democracy. The proposition itself reveals the desperate condition of the party and the humiliating shifts to which it is willing to resort to regain political power. And yet the CHASE movement is a formidable one and may control the July Convention. The Manhattan Club, the aristocratic Democratic club of New York, has pronounced in his favor, while the New York World, N. Y. Herald, Washington Intelligencer, and other papers, cordially endorse the movement, as essential to the salvation of the party:

So it goes. With the Democracy confused and bewildered—torn by internal dissensions and warring factions—without settled principles or bond of union—weighed down by the terrible load of infamy growing out of their infidelity to the country in its hour of trial—repudiated by the loyal masses, and hated by the soldier heroes who, in spite of armed Rebellion and Copperhead Treason, saved the Republic—inevitable defeat stares them in the face. On the the other hand the loyal masses of the Republic, under the lead of Unconditional Surrender GRANT and the chivalrous COLFAX, are moving forward in solid column—their banners floating proudly in the breeze, emblazoned with the acknowledged and every where accepted principles of the party—prepared to strike whenever the enemy shall take the field—and assured of triumphant victory! WHO CAN DOUBT THE RESULT?

SAFETY OF TRAVEL.

The verdict of $20,000 damages which was recently given in the Supreme Court of New York, in favor of a passenger who brought an action against the New Jersey Steamboat Company, to recover that amount in compensation for his permanent physical injury, consequent upon the explosion of the boiler of the steamer St. John, in October, 1865, will be received with hearty satisfaction by the traveling community. The infliction of severe pecuniary penalties upon the managers and directors of the lines of public travel—both afloat and ashore—in every case where life is destroyed or limb injured through their negligence, is the sure method of bringing them to a sense of their obligations.

This strict accountability for damages resulting from carelessness on the part of their employees, or negligence on their own part, insisted on, we shall not be shocked so often as we have been by the recurrence of such easily preventible horrors as those which are not yet generally forgotten as having happened at Angola and at Carr's Rock.—N. Y. Times.

Our last Legislature, so far from taking any steps to protect life, actually destroyed an existing and valuable guaranty of it, by providing that in no case, whatever the circumstances of carelessness or recklessnes or neglect, should juries be allowed to have any discretion, but they should be rigidly limited to $3.000 in case of injury, and $5.000 in case of death; this arbitrary rule to apply to suits now pending as well as those hereafter to arise.

THE Managers' Investigation had before them last week Hon. E. H. WEBSTER, JOHNSON'S Collector of the Port of Baltimore. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger thus states WEBSTER'S testimony:

"The evidence of Collector Webster was nearly all relative to the raising of a fund for paying off the President's expenses for attorneys' fees. This was brought out upon questions of Mr. Butler as related by Webster. It appears that witness having learned it was proposed to raise a fund for the purpose stated, in the several large cities, himself headed a list of subscribers in Baltimore, composed of three or four Federal officers and about twenty leading merchants of that city; that the entire sum raised was twenty-five hundred dollars, which was paid over to Colonel Cooper and added to fifteen or twenty thousand dollars, then already sent from New York and Philadelphia, and afterwards distributed amongst the President's counsel."

WE give in another column the letters of Gen. GRANT and Speaker COLFAX formally accepting the Chicago nominations, which will be read with interest. Gen. GRANT, in his usual laconic style, endorses the resolutions adopted by the Convention, and promises to administer the Government "with the view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere." A soldier in War, now that the clash of arms has passed, he believes relief from financial difficulty and national prosperity can be best secured by moderate counsels, and closes with the significant demand—"LET US HAVE PEACE!"

THE Virginia Rebel Democrats insist that at the coming elections every man shall vote an open ballot. This device of tyrants betrays the baseness of its suggestors, but will fail of its purpose to dictate to, and overawe, the votes of that State.

WITH GRANT in the White House and COLFAX presiding over a Republican Senate, the peace for which all men are so anxious, will be insured.

THERE are fourteen lives of GRANT announced, as in press and recently printed.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Hon. George C. Gorham, of California, has been elected Secretary of the Senate, in place of John W. Forney, resigned.

The Senate has rejected the nomination of Gen. George B. McClellan, to be minister to England. Reverdy Johnson is prominently named in connection with the position.

Mr. Stanberry having resigned the Attorney Generalship to act as counsel for the President in the Impeachment trial, the President re-nominated him when the trial was completed. The Senate, however, rejected him because of his hostility to the Reconstruction acts.

The House has passed a bill amending the pension laws. It provides that in the case of the death of a soldier, who leaves neither widow nor children, and who would be entitled to a pension, the pension shall go to the mother, father, sisters or brothers of such soldier, in the order named.

The Committee charged with the investigation of what influences were used to control the votes of Senators on the articles of impeachment is said to have succeeded in tracing $60,000 to the doors of a Western Senator, in the shape of two drafts, but the drafts were cashed in the name of another party, who cannot be found.

The conference committee on the disagreeing votes of the two houses on the bill to admit Arkansas to representation in Congress, made a report, which was agreed to, and the bill passed. The committee's report was in substance the bill as it originally passed the House of Representatives, with a proviso allowing the State to change its Constitution as respects the time of residence, &c., necessary for voters, but to make no change in the provisions prohibiting the disfranchisement of persons on account of race or color.

GRANT AND COLFAX.

General Grant Accepts the Nomination and Endorses the Resolutions—A Radical Platform on a Radical Platform—The Will of the People the Policy of the Coming Administration—Peace, Quiet, and Protection the Plan of Reconstruction—Hon. Schuyler Colfax's Letter of Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, 1868.

To General Joseph R. Hawley, president of the National Union Republican Convention:

In formally accepting the nomination of the National Union Republican Convention of the 21st inst., it seems proper that some statement of views beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination should be expressed. The proceedings of the convention were marked with wisdom, moderation, and patriotism, and, I believe, expressed the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained the country through its recent trials. I endorse their resolutions, and, if elected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy and with the view of giving peace, quiet, and protection everywhere. In times like the present it is impossible, or at least eminently improper, to lay down a policy to be adhered to, right or wrong. Through an administration of four years new political issues, not foreseen, are constantly arising, the views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I always have respected that will, and always shall. Peace and universal prosperity, its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taxation, while it constantly reduces the national debt. Let us have peace.

With great respect, your obedient servant,
U. S. GRANT.

WASHINGTON May 30, 1868.

Hon. J. R. Hawley, president of the National Union Republican Convention:

DEAR SIR: The platform adopted by the patriotic convention over which you presided, and the resolutions which so happily supplement it, so entirely agree with my views as to a just national policy, that my thanks are due to the delegates, as much for this clear, conspicuous declaration of principles as for the nomination with which I have been honored, and which I gratefully accept.

When a great rebellion, which imperilled the national existence, was at last overthrown, the duty of all others devolving on those entrusted with the responsibilities of legislation evidently was to require that the revolted States should be admitted to participation in the Government against which they had warred, only on such a basis as to increase and fortify, not to weaken or endanger, the strength and power of nation. Certainly no one ought to have claimed that they should be readmitted under such rule, that their organization as States could ever again be used, as at the opening of the war, to defy the national authority, or to destroy the national unity.

This principle has been the pole star of those who have inflexibly insisted on the Congressional policy your convention so cordially endorsed. Baffled by Executive opposition and persistent refusals to accept any plan of reconstruction proffered by Congress, justice and public safety at last combined to teach us that only by an enlargement of suffrage in those States could the desired end be attained, and that it was even more safe to give the ballot to those who loved the Union than to those who had sought ineffectually to destroy it. The assured success of this legislation is being written on the adamant of history, and will be our triumphant vindication. More clearly, too, than every before does the nation recognize that the greatest glory of a republic is that it throws the shield of its protection over the humblest and the weakest of its people, and vindicates the rights of the poor and powerless as faithfully as those of the rich and powerful.

I rejoice, too, in this connection, to find in your platform the frank and fearless avowal that naturalized citizens must be protected abroad at every hazard, as though they were native born. Our whole people are foreigners or descendants of foreigners, and our fathers established by arms their rights to be called a nation. It remains for us to establish the right to welcome to our shores all who are willing by oaths of allegiance to become American citizens. Perpetual allegiance as claimed abroad is only another name for perpetual bondage, and would make all slaves to the soil where first they saw the light.

Our national cemeteries prove how faithfully these oaths of fidelity to their adopted land have been sealed in the life blood of thousands upon thousands. Should we not, then, be faithless to the dead, if we did not protect their living brethren in the full enjoyment of that nationality for which, side by side with the native born, our soldiers of foreign birth laid down their lives?

It was fitting, too, that the representatives of a party which had proved so true to national duty in time of war should speak so clearly in time of peace for the maintenance untarnished of the national power, national credit, and good faith as regards its debt, the cost of our national existence. I do not need to extend this reply by further comment on a platform which has elicited such hearty approval throughout the land. The debt of gratitude is acknowledged to the brave men who saved the Union from destruction, with the frank approval of amnesty based on repentance and loyalty.

The demand for the most thorough economy and honesty in the Government, the sympathy of the party of liberty with all throughout the world who long for the liberty we here enjoy, and the recognition of the sublime principles of the Declaration of Independence, are worthy of the organization on whose banners they are to be written in the coming contest. Its past record cannot be blotted out or forgotten. If there had been no Republican party slavery would to-day cast its baleful shadows over the Republic. If there had been no Republican party a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grande as ten years ago.

If the Republican party could have been stricken from existence when the banner of rebellion was unfurled, and when the response of no coercion was heard at the North, we would have had no nation to-day. But for the Republican party daring to risk the odium of tax and draft laws, our flag could not have been kept flying in the field till the long hoped for victory came. Without a Republican party the civil rights bill, the guarantee of equality under the law to the humble and the defenceless as well as to the strong, would not be to-day upon our national statute-book.

With such inspiration from the past, and following the example of the founders of the Republic, who called the victorious general of the Revolution to preside over the land his triumphs had saved from its enemies, I cannot doubt that our labors will be crowned with success; and it will be a success which shall bring restored hope, confidence, prosperity, and progress South as well as North, West as well as East, and, above all, the blessings under Providence of national concord and peace.

Very truly yours,
SCHUYLER COLFAX.

AN Eastern paper neatly puts Grant's name at the head of its columns, "U. S. Grant, of Appomattox."

ADDRESS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

PHILADELPHIA May 27, 1868.

To the Voters of Pennsylvania:

The National Convention of the Republican party, with unanimity and enthusiasm unprecedented, has nominated candidates for President and Vice President, and announced the principles upon which they appeal to the people for support. As to the individuals selected no word of commendation is necessary. Their deeds form a part of the history of the country.

No matter who the candidates in opposition may be, they must represent an organization that was unfaithful to the country in the hour of its direst peril and false to liberty and the rights of man.

For four years the Republic shook with the tread of armed men in a struggle to determine whether the will of the majority constitutionally expressed should be the law of the land till changed in the mode prescribed by the organized law. In that struggle three thousand millions of treasure were wasted—three hundred thousand hero-martyrs found in our ransomed soil their graves, and sorrows its today at almost every fireside, mourning the unreturning brave.

This waste of treasure and legacy of woe were caused by the minority, in a fair election, refusing to submit to the will of the majority constitutionally expressed. Suspended on the issue hung the life of the republic and the hopes of mankind.

The only political organization to give aid, sympathy and encouragement to that minority in its attempt to dismember the Republic and thus destroy our liberties, was the party calling itself Democratic. At its last National Convention, while a half million of men were in arms for the overthrow of the Government, it declared the war for the Union a failure, and demanded an immediate cessation of hostilities.

"We were asked to spike our guns when the foe was at bay,
And the rags of his black banner were dropping away;
To take down the proud name our nation had won,
And strike her brave bird from his home in the sun."

Had the policy of the Democratic party been successful, the genius of impartial history would have written on the tombstone of the present generation an epitaph of indelible infamy and endless disgrace—that it preferred the Republic should die rather than endure the sacrifices necessary for it to live.

The men and the party that saved the Government in war can preserve and protect it in peace. The great captain of the age will lead the loyal hosts of the Republican to victory in November next, as he led its armies at Donaldson, Vicksburg and Appomatox Court House.

Republicans of the Keystone State, efficient organization secures certain victory. Your party in its infancy saved the Territory of the Union from the blight and curse of human bondage, and consecrated them forever to free home for free men. In its early manhood it has grappled and crushed the most gigantic conspiracy ever formed for the destruction of liberty and free government. Treachery of public servants or apostacy of trusted leaders cannot stay its onward march.

With truth and justice for weapons, and the hearts of the people for a bulwark, if true to yourselves, a certain victory awaits you.

"The price of liberty: eternal vigilance."
CALESHA A. GROW,
Chairman Rep. State Cen. Com.

POLITICAL.

GENERAL Mead is announced by an Atlanta paper to have come out for Grant and Colfax.

THE Washington Republican—so long the Johnson organ par excellence—has came out for Grant.

A COPPERHEAD exchange calls the Chicago Convention "a wake." Well, it was rather a wakeful affair, and we are going to wake snakes in November—until which time the Copperheads can slumber.

AMONG the visitors to Gen. Grant on the occasion of the serenade Friday evening, was a crippled soldier, who extended his only hand, saying: "I have one hand left to shake with and vote for Gen. Grant."

IN Gen. Grant's protest against the removal of Stanton and Sheridan, sent to President Johnson, occurs this noble sentiment: "This is a Republic where the will of the people is the law of the land."

IF Gen. Grant reduced the expenses of the Government $12,000,000 per annum, as the head of one department of the Goverment, how much will be the reduction when he has a right to interfere in all departments?—Toledo Blade.

GEN. CHARLES F. MADERSON, who was appointed a delegate from Ohio Seventeenth District to the New York Conservative Soldiers' Convention, has declined in a letter in which he says that he shall continue to fight on the old line, and vote and work for GRANT, COLFAX and Victory.

ANECDOTE OF GENERAL GRANT.—At a celebration on the 22d of February, before the surrender of Vicksburg, while all around were drinking toasts in sparkling champaign, General Grant, pushing aside a glass of wine, and taking up a glass of Mississippi water, remarked: "This suits the matter in hand," drink to the toast, "God gave us Lincoln and Liberty; let us fight for both."

THE "Tanners" are a new organization at Ogdensburg for the purpose of furthering the success of Gen. Grant. The regalia or uniform consists of a leather apron and other paraphernalia, commemorative of the business in which Gen. Grant was engaged at the time the Rebellion broke out. In joining the army, the General did not abandon his business, but kept on tanning the hides of the Rebels till the end of the war. The Tanners now propose to do for the Democracy what Grant did for the Rebels.

GEN. SICKLES, at the close of his Grant speech at Milwaukee, very appropriately quoted from Tennyson on the Duke of Wellington, as follows:

"He is our greatest, yet with least pretence,
Great in council, great in war,
The greatest captain of his time,
RICH IN SAVING COMMON SENSE."

The following is from a late number of the La Crosse Democrat:

"At Jefferson, TEXAS, has just been issued the first number of a paper called the Ultra Ku Klux. Look out for dead niggers." * * * * When a rogue, like Thad Stevens, for instance, arrives at a ripe old age, would't it be proper to pick him off with a pistol shot?"

GEN. C. J. Halpine is a prominent New York Democrat and editor of the Citizen. In that paper he says:

"Grant and Colfax make a ticket hard to beat. The wonderful military success of the one, and the great political ability of the other, cannot be written down or belittled by newspapers editors; and the attempt to do so is a folly only worthy of the late management of the Democratic party. The hero of Donelson, Corinth, most wonderful of all, of Vicksburg, and finally of Richmond, is not a third-rate General, and no literary scribe can make him one. The gentleman who has worked his way up to the Speakership of the House of Representatives, is not a bad politician, and those who buy him for one will not make a profitable bargain. Probably there are no two leading names stronger, individually or collectively, than the two which have been put forward, and if they do not receive the support of the people, it will be from other than personal reasons."

STATE OF NEWS GATHERING COUNTIES.

BEDFORD.—A heavy thunder storm passed over Bedford county on the 27th ult., the lightning striking a number of buildings. Joseph Gohn had two horses instantly killed in a team he was driving, Mr. Gohn himself escaping with the paralization of the lower part of his body. James Corboy was struck speechless, while in his stable, but recovered. —Fred. Kleinman, aged 47, native of Prussia, committed suicide on the 1st inst., by hanging himself to the limb of a tree on the pike, 6 miles from Bedford.

GENERAL NEWS.

THE receipts for internal revenue last week amounted to $6,346,580.07.

REPORTS concerning the wheat crop in North Carolina and Arkansas are very encouraging.

THE wheat harvest is commencing in Middle Tennessee. The yield will be large and excellent in quality.

LE NORD asserts that the opinion widely prevails in Paris that a war will brake out in Europe before the close of next autumn.

A LARGE number of clerks, Republican in politics, are being dismissed from the several Departments in Washington.

PAPAL RECRUITS.—His Holiness the Pope has sent an agent to the United States to enlist troops here for the Papal army. General Garibaldi has written several very earnest letters to his friends and to the authorities in America, entreating them, on behalf of the liberty party of Italy, to discourage the project.

THE peanut crop in North Carolina, where it is chiefly raised, has almost taken the place of cotton as the great staple, and brings the cultivators annually $100 per acre. Eight thousand bushels on a single plantation is considered but an average crop, while from ten to sixteen thousand bushels is not regarded as a very extraordinary yield.

A SCHOOL girl, aged fourteen, in Oregon, Warren county, Ohio, was reprimanded by her mother one day last week, and took the reproof very much to heart. Soon afterwards her mother had occasion to go into the cellar, and was horror-sticken at discovering her daughter hanging by a rope which she had fastened to a joist. She was not rescued a moment to soon.

INTERNAL Revenue Commissioner Rollins has tendered his resignation, to take effect upon the confirmation of his successor by the Senate. He has been connected with the Bureau since its creation. Among the reasons he gives for withdrawing from the position is the unsatisfactory working of the Revenue establishment, in consequence of the conflict with the President as to the appointment of suitable officers.

F. C. CALHOUN, a prominent politician and formely Speaker of the of the New York Assembly, was convicted in the U. States Circuit Court last week of whisky frauds and sentenced to pay a fine of $10,000 and undergo two years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

OREGON ELECTION.—Despatches from Oregon state that the Democrats have carried the State by about 600 majority, electing a member of Congress and a majority of the Legislature. The State has always been very close. The Republicans carried it in 1866 by 327 majority. Grant and Colfax will wheel it back into the Republican column.

PNEUMATIC TUBES.—The Governor of New York has signed a bill authorizing the formation of a Pneumatic Dispatch Company in New York city for the transmission of letters and light merchandise. The method of propulsion is very simple. A hollow tube is laid, a car which exactly fits the bore is placed at one end, and the air is then exhausted from the opposite end of the tube, when the atmospheric pressure on the car forces it through the tube. The first line will be constructed immediately, and if successful, similar lines will be built to all parts of New York and Brooklyn.

A charter for a pneumatic railway has also been granted by the New Jersey Legislature, and it is expected that a large tube will soon be laid between Jersey City and Newark for transmitting both light and heavy freight.—If this line should prove successful, the company will build a passenger pneumatic railway throughout the State. It is said that cars can be safely run by this method at the rate of forty or fifty miles an hour.

THE Twenty-fourth Annual Convocation of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows will convene at Harrisburg during the first week in October next. It is expected that this will be the largest demonstration ever held among the colored people of Pennsylvania. Lodges are expected to be present from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Alexandria, Norristown, West Chester, York and Reading; also, delegations from Norfolk, Charleston, New Orleans, Toronto, Buffalo and other distant cities.

THE closeness of the vote at the late municipal election in Washington promises trouble. Both parties claim a majority in the City Councils, there being several contested seats. On Monday, Bowen, the Republican May or elect, qualified and took possession of the Mayor's office. Two Boards of Councilmen organized, one Copperhead and the other Republican—each claiming to be the legal body.

SOME of Pendleton's friends have been in Washington measuring the calibre of the Chase movement. They reported that there is much talk on the subject, but they cannot find where Mr. Chase will get the votes to nominate him. They claim that Pendleton will have a clean majority on the first ballot.

There is a hitch in the proposed union of the Presbyterian church, by reason of the Old School Assembly making some modification in the basis of union which failed to receive the approval of the New School body. The matter, therefore, goes over for another year.

IT is said that the President will not veto and more of the Reconstruction acts, but will allow them to become laws without his signature. This simply saves Congress the trouble of passing them over his veto.

GEN. Buchanan, who has been following up Hancock's policy in Louisiana, ordered the arrest of some members of the Louisiana Board of Registration, but released them again by orders from Gen. Grant.

GEN. Meade has been ordered to Washington, and left Atlanta on Sunday evening train.

☞It is conceded by all who have tested them, that Dodge's Patent Ohio and Buckeye, and E. Ball & Co's World Reaper and Mower, are beyond all question the best in the market, combining in greater perfection the great essentials of simplicity, durability, compactness, and lightness of draft. WM. WIBLE, Straban township, is the Agent for these admirable Reapers and Mowers, and Farmers would do well to examine them. See advertisement. It

Gettysburg, Wednesday, June 10, 1868.

SUB-CONTRACT.—Mr. SAMUEL HERBST, of this place, has taken a sub-contract for carrying the mail between this place and Westminster. We understand it is his intention to put a two-horse coach on the road.

LARGE BARN.—On Thursday last, VALENTINE BRAMER, in Mensillen township, raised the frame work of a new barn, said to be the largest in that township. There were 152 persons present and everything passed off safely and pleasantly.

ARM BROKEN.—Mrs. POWERS, wife of SOLOMON POWERS; of this place, met with a painful fracture of the arm, above the wrist, in Baltimore, on Thursday last. Visiting Druid Hill Park, and crossing a ravine on a foot bridge, by some means she tripped, falling from the bridge, and breaking an arm.

REMOVALS.—Messrs. SOPER & MCCARTNEY have taken the room on Baltimore st., first square, recently occupied by DAVID KITZMILLER, and fitted it up as a Jewelry Store. Mr. KITZMILLER has removed his Shoe Shop to the room vacated by SOPER & MCCARTNEY, on York street, and intends keeping City shoes besides home-made work.

AFLOAT.—Several weeks ago we published a letter from a correspondent in Santa Croix, over the signature of "Marshall," giving an account of the grounding of the "Monongahela," Com. BISSELL. A note from "Marshal," under date of May 12 announces that the old ship is again afloat, much to the gratification of American residents of the island.

PORTRAIT OF GRANT.—J. H. LITTLEFIELD, of New York City, has published a superb likeness of General GRANT, and has under way a companion portrait of Mr. Speaker COLFAX. The picture of Grant is very elegantly executed; the resemblance, both of feature and expression, striking; and, as a work of art, it will survive the special interest which now attaches to it. Sold by agents.

FAST DRIVING.—We have a Borough ordinance against fast driving in our streets, and yet scarcely a day passes by that the lives of children are not jeopardized by its violation, and parents kept in constant dread. Our public streets are no places in which train or show thespeed of fast horses, and the evil should be abated at once by a rigid enforcing of the ordinance. Will the Borough authorities see to it, or wait until some serious accident wakes them up?

PIC NIC.—A Military Encampment and Basket Pic Nic, under the auspices of the Gettysburg Zouaves and Franklin Zouaves, will be held in the grove near Texas, Butler township, on Friday next, June 12. The Gettysburg Zouaves will meet in this place to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock, in full dress and with one day's rations, and march to the grove, pitch tents, and encamp until Friday evening. Should the weather prove unfavorable, the Pic-Nic will be postponed one week.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—We understand that the Ladies design having a Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival in Agricultural Hall, on Thursday evening the 18th inst., for the benefit of the Memorial Church enterprise. Besides Strawberries and Ice Cream, there will be a full supply of Cakes, &c. A pleasant time may be expected. Aside from the delicacies to be served up, the cause itself appeals strongly to the liberality of our citizens, and we hope to see every body on hand, with plenty of small change.

AGRICULTURAL HALL.—The managers of the Agricultural Society have determined to put up a two story frame building in front of their Hall, extending to the street, to be 20x40 feet. The lower story will have a passage ten feet wide leading to the Hall, with an office on either side. The upper story will be divided into rooms for the use of Committees, &c. The Improvement is a desirable one in every respect, and is creditable to the enterprise of the managers. Proposals for the new building will be received until the 18th inst.

THE ELLINGER & FOOTE TROUPE.—We notice that this troupe, which some months ago exhibited in Agricultural Hall, met with an accident on the 14th ult., in New Philadelphia, Ohio. While the carriage containing Col. SMALL, Miss ELIZA NESTELLE and Commodore FOOTE, was being driven around the streets, the ponies became unmanageable, threw the driver off, ran away and upset the carriage. Col. SMALL, who had an outside seat upon the rear of the carriage, was thrown off, striking his head against a stable and very seriously and dangerously injuring him. Commodore FOOTE escaped injury, but his sister had her beauty spoiled by a bruise over the right eye.

IGNORED.—Several months ago, a U. S. Revenue detective made his appearance in this place, and closed up the vinegar establishment of Mr. ADAM DIEHL on the allegation of illicit distillation of whisky. Mr. DIEHL was taken by surprise, but conscious of his innocence went promptly and voluntarily before Judge WATTS, U. S. Commissioner, at Carlisle, and entered bial to answer the charge. We notice that the case was called in the U. S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia, last Friday; and there being no evidence to sustain it, the bill was ignored by the Grand Jury, the United States to pay costs. We congratulate Mr. DIEHL on this vindication of his integrity.

WHERE TO BUY.—The advertising columns of a newspaper are sure tests of business tact and energy, and indicate where the best goods can be bought on best terms.—Live business men always advertise liberally, and buyers will find that as a general rule that they can deal to best advantage where enterprise and energy are manifested. Read carefully the advertisements, and you will find it pays. The large circulation of the "STAR AND SENTINEL" makes it not only a desirable but necessary advertising medium. Hitherto we have from time to time been compelled to decline advertisements by reason of the pressure on our columns.—Our contemplated enlargement will give us more room and enable us to meet all demands in this respect.

THE FAR WEST.—We are indebted to the courtesy of Senator MCCONAUGHY, who has just returned from a trip over the Pacific Railroad, for copies of the Omaha (Nebraska) Tribune, the Denver (Colorado) Tribune, the Rocky Mountain (Colorado) News, the Council Bluffs (Iowa) Nonpareil, the Laramie City (Dakota Territory) Index, and the Cheyenne (D. T.) Leader—all live Republican papers of the Far West. Senator MCCONAUGHY was one of an excursion party, who, after the Chicago Convention, passed over the Pacific Railroad to the Rocky Mountains, and planted the national colors, inscribed with the names of GRANT and COLFAX, on the highest point reached by the road. The Cheyenne Leader gives a detailed account of the interesting ceremony. Speeches were made by Col. SANDERS, of Montana, Mr. MCCONAUGHY, F. B. AYER, of New Hampshire, and others. We notice also that Mr. MCCONAUGHY addressed a Republican Mass-Meeting at Council Bluffs on the 29th of May.

☞ Summer having came at last, everybody is laying aside their winter rig and substituting more comfortable clothing. Now is the time to get Ready-made Clothing, and FRANCIS CUNNINGHAM'S, opposite the "Star and Sentinel" office, just the place to get them. He has the largest stock ever opened in Gettysburg, and sells at prices that can't be beat. Call and examine for yourselves. 2t

KATALYSINE SPRING.—A few days ago we made a visit to this now noted Spring, and were much surprised to find the great change that had been effected in the surroundings under the energetic administration of Dr. SMITH, the gentlemanly Superintendent. Formerly the Spring was difficult of access, and surrounded by swamp and marsh. We found a marked transformation. The grounds have been cleared of undergrowth, and some four acres enclosed in a neat pailing fence, with gravelled walks, green sod, and a new substantial road leading direct from the pike. The Spring itself has been carefully walled up with heavy dressed granite, and enclosed in one end of the building used for bottling—the building itself being a neat and comfortable one, with piazza and office for accommodation of visitors. We noticed that ornamental shade trees have been put out in various parts of the enclosure, and in course of time the spot must prove one of the most attractive in the neigh borhood.

We were somewhat interested in the bottling process. Everything, from the unpacking of empty bottles to the final packing and labelling of boxes is done in the building—washing empty bottles, filling with the Katalysine water, corking, labelling, wrapping, packing, &c.,—employing about 30 hands. The whole process is rapid and systematic, the bottles passing from hand to hand in the various processes, without confusion. The corking is done very rapidly by aid of ingenious machinery, and it is impossible to withdraw the cork without breaking or defacing, thus guarding against tampering with the water after leaving the establishment. Most of the employees are young girls, who receive good wages.

The water is put up for the market in quart bottles, specially prepared for the Company. These are packed in boxes or cases holding two dozen each. The demand for the water is daily increasing, and keeps the entire force busily engaged. About 240 dozen bottles are put up every day, and shipped by railroad to the principle cities, and in filling special orders from almost every State in the Union. Although the Spring is within a mile or two of town, few of our citizens have any idea of the magnitude of the operations connected with the bottling and shipping of this water. Teams are passing to and fro, bringing cases of empty bottles from the depot, and returning with cases with water bottled for the market. It has been found necessary to run special cars through to Philadelphia and New York. The boxes, hitherto manufactured elsewhere, are now made on the ground.

We may add that visitors to the Spring are always courteously received, and permitted to drink freely of the water without charge.

Between the growing reputation of this remarkable Spring and the attractions of the Battle-field, Gettysburg bids fair to become a town of some importance. The office register at the Spring records the names of a large number of daily visitors representing nearly every State in the Union, who visit the establishment as one of the "institutions" of the place.

LOCUSTS.—The seventeen year Locusts have made their appearance in this neighborhood, and in a few days the woods will be vocal with their peculiar music. Last Wednesday, in passing through the grove in which Reynolds fell, near the Katalysine Spring, we found nearly every bush and tree teeming with them. We hear of hogs dying from eating locusts grubs in various sections. Last week Mrs. BROUGH, near Cashtown, lost one hog; PETER BROUGH two, and a colored man named Craig two.—Farmers would do well to pen up their hogs until the locusts have come out of the ground.

Seventeen years ago these Locusts made their appearance about the 20th of May.—After a few weeks they commenced to die, disappearing entirely the last of June or beginning of July. Mr. DANIEL LEHMAN, of York, seems to have given considerable attention to these curious insects, and communicates to the True Democrat some interesting facts. He says that in that neighborhood they made their first appearance in 1817 on the 23d of May; in 1834 about the same time, and in 1851 on the 26th of May. For some time most of them have been about five inches below the surface of the earth, and their protracted stay is attributable to the continued wet weather. Many of them have died in the ground on account of the frequent rains, and we may justly conclude that they will, by no means, be as numerous as in former years. In 1817, Mr. Lehman made the following experiment. He took some of the small branches, where the eggs had been deposited and wrapped them carefully up and laid them away and did not open them until 1834, when the locusts made their apperende again; and then by the aid of a microscope discovered that the eggs were dead and had never made the least advance towards incubation. In that year he put a quantity of the eggs in a bottle and corked it up and did not examine its contents again until 1851, when he found the result the same—the eggs were dead and had made no progress towards hatching.

From this it is well established that the eggs of the locusts must come in contract with the earth before they will advance towards life and that the soil is essential to the development of the life-giving property they contain.

By frequent experiment Mr. Lehman has also ascertained that the locusts never descend further than six feet into the earth.—What they live on, or how they subsist, in their self constituted grave; whether they increase and multiply, or remain, to all intents and purposes, dead all this time; we believe, has never been ascertained. These singular insects are certainly a wonderful natural phenomena and should be made a special subject of study. Their coming and going is an object of interest for the curious and scientific, and certainly teach a lesson which has never been fully and satisfactorily explained.

A VALUABLE SEWING MACHINE.—A young lady, resident of Straban township, remarked to us the other day that, she had purchased one of the American Button-hole Overseaming and Sewing Machines, and that in case she could not get another, she would not take $300, for the one she has. We candidly believe these machines to be the best in the market, and would advise all persons desiring to purchase a Machine that is really worth its weight in gold to call on or address D. W. ROBISON, Agent, Baltimore street, Gettysburg, Pa. 1t

☞ Housekeepers and others wanting good Cooking Stoves, the best in the market, warranted to bake and give satisfaction, or any thing in lind of Tin Ware, Japan Ware, Hollow Ware, Chamber Sets, Bread and Spice Boxes, Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers, Coffee Mills, Bird Cages, Fruit Jars and Cans, Waiters, &c. &c., will find just what they want at the Ware-room of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, corner of Railroad and Carlisle street, opposite the Passenger Depot, and at prices which defy competition. tf

☞ "Do not you agree with me that the juries give their verdict" in favor of "Burnett's Vegetable Hair Restorative?". It is the universal verdict of mankind that it is the best in the market; let all who are becoming prematurely old-looking and bald begin at once the use of this never failing article.—Portland Transcript. 1t

☞ A large Volume would not contain the mass of testimony which has accumulated in favor of "Vistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry as a quick, efficient, and reliable remedy in curing coughs, colds, and pulmonary diseases. Many of the cures are truly wonderful. 1t

☞ A FULL ASSORTMENT.—The attention of Farmers, Builders, Contractors, and others is invited to the large assortment of LUMBER of all kinds suitable for building purposes, to be found at Col. C. H. BUEHLER'S Lumber Yard, at corner of Carlisle street and Railroad depot, including Boards, Planks, Flooring, Siding, Laths, Pickets, Shingles, &c.—Also, Posts, hewed and sawed, with prime Fencing Boards, white Pine and Hemlock. His stock is not only large, but his arrangements are such that he can sell at the very lowest cash rates. Also, constantly on hands Black-smith, Lime-Burners' and Stove COAL, tf

HUBBARD'S COMBINED SELF-RAKING REAPER AND MOWER.—For sale by Henry Thomas & Son. This machine has two driving wheels, hanged joint and folding bar. The self-raker can be controlled by the driver, and a full sheaf made in all kinds of grain. If desired, the self-raker can be adjusted to deliver a sheaf at every revolution of the rakes, without any aid from the driver. We deem it unnecessary to give any further description, but refer all wishing to purchase to those farmers who bought last season. tf

☞ We notice an old and reliable Boston firm, HARRIS & PLUMMER, who advertise in our column "The success." They are a well known and responsible firm, and have incorporated the popular One Dollar Sale into their business as a means of reaching the masses. They offer superior inducements to Agents, and their advertisement is well worthy the attention of our readers. 1t

☞ Let those who have detected the premature evidences of age—the tell-tale whitening of the locks, the unnatural thinning of the covering which nature designed should be preserved to the period of dissolution, lose no time in securing a bottle of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative," the great antidote to baldness, gray hair and wigs.—Buffalo Express. 1t

☞ No loss can be more fatal to beauty, especially in the female sex, than the loss of the hair; glossy, luxuriant hair is one of the most powerful of all personal charms. When baldness or even a deficiency of hair exists, we naturally look for a dry and wrinkled skin, a faded complexion; when not actually seen, we see them in imagination. Why, then, not cultivate your hair? Encourage it and strengthen it; or if your hair is gray or white, the natural color can be restored by a few applications of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORER OR DRESSING, (in one bottle.) Price One Dollar. Every Druggist sells it. June 3—1m

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

CLEANER AND BAGGER,

With the latest improved Triple-geared Horse Power, either Gear or Belt.

This machine has successfully competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever produced; in fact, the only Separator and Cleaner ever before the public to give general satisfaction.

The machine is conveniently arranged for hauling and threshing, being permanently fixed on two wheels. One man can easily move or shift it about, so that it is not half the trouble on a barn floor as a common thresher and shaker. It is also easily put in operation. It is simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact and cleanly to work by while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separators.

Farmers are rest assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers that are using them we must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want.

The following are a few of the persons who have used this machine, well known, and to whom the public are referred for further information:

John D. Pfoutz, " Gettysburg " "

THE AMERICAN

BUTTON HOLE, OVERSEAMING

AND

SEWING MACHINE CO.,

In directing attention to their CELEBRATED OVERSEAMING BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, beg leave to refer to its wonderful popularity as the exclusive proof of its great merit.

The increase in the demand for this valuable machine has been TEN FOLD during the last seven months of its first year before the public.

This grand and surprising success is unprecedented in the history of sewing-machines, and we feel fully warranted in claiming that

IT HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING ABSOLUTELY THE BEST

FAMILY MACHINE

IN THE WORLD,

And Intrinsically the Cheapest.

It is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement), making both the Shuttle or Lock-stitch, and the Overseaming and Button hole stitch, with equal facility and perfection.—It executes in the very best manner every variety of Sewing, such as, H

The Farmer and Housekeeper.

STRAWBERRIES.

Of late years the cultivation of strawberries has become so general, and the supply increased so enormously, that they are within the reach of all classes of persons. The poorest laborer must be poor indeed who does not have them at his tables in the season. Their general use is most beneficial to health, as indeed is the use of all fruits. Strawberries contain just the combination of acid and saccharine substance needed for warm weather and unhealthy seasons. They are easily cultivated and every family having a small patch of ground, can grow more than they can use.

The varieties in general cultivation, are the Wilson's Albany, Agricultural, Triumph De-Grande, Russel's Prolific, Jocunda and New Jersey Scarlet; and either of these, with suitable soil and good clean cultivation, yield enormously. The soil should be moist, composed of one fourth sand, with leaf mould and ashes. If these cannot be had well, decomposed muck will answer a good purpose.—The beds should be kept free from grass and the creepers well trimmed off. The ground should be covered with leaves, clean hay, or straw while fruiting, in order to keep the fruit from the sand and dust. In the winter they should have a covering of leaves, straw, or corn fodder to protect them from the cold.

RENOVATING OLD MEADOWS.

John Kelsey, of Yardleyville, Pennsylvania, who has an original and good way of doing many things, reports to the American Agriculturist his method of renewing old mowing lots without plowing. "If the surface of the meadow is sufficiently smooth, that is, needing no moving of the surface, the most effectual way is to harrow it until the sod is entirely loose, using a Kelsey harrow (that is, one with a pole or shafts.) This should be done immediately after mowing, as the hot sun will then kill all the grass roots. Let it be harrowed about once every ten days until about the 25th of August, then spread on fifty bushels of lime to the acre, and harrow it well. Sow the timothy seed about four quarts per acre, about the first of September, roll it down, and put up the bars or shut the gate, and if you do not get a crop of grass the following harvest, then set me down for a humbug.—Perhaps some may say that 'the grass roots will clog up to the harrow;' if so, rake them into windrows and set fire to them, and then scatter the ashes over the lawn. I dressed up an old meadow of ten acres, in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, and succeeded in raising twenty-five large two-horse loads of clean timothy hay the first crop, where in former years only two loads of trash had been raised, and that by a man whom tradition says was 'the best farmer in Bucks county.'"

CLOVER AND TIMOTHY.—A. Hadley, in communication to the Northwestern Farmer, gives what he regards as three important reasons why clover should always be grown with timothy. First, the clover being tap rooted penetrates deeply, stands drouth, mellows the soil, and the timothy grows much stronger and holds up the clover. Secondly, if sown for pasturage, the timothy almost universally prevents the clover from swelling cattle.—Thirdly, hay is too binding, especially for cattle, and clover too washy (succulent), hence both together are better than either alone. To these we may add, under the head of the first that where grass comes in a rotation, it is of the utmost importance, on a clay soil, that at least a part of this grass crop be clover. It will serve to mellow and loosen the heavy soil in a remarkable degree, so that when turned over with a plow, it will not only be rich, but loose and friable. If, on the other hand, timothy alone be sown, (which some do because the hay sells better,) the soil will turn over heavy and clammy, and be unfit for any crop which is to follow. The same correspondent says that he is partial to rye for calf or sheep pasture, which he occasionally sows in the summer or autumn, after a crop of corn; and then, after being pastured winter and spring, it is turned under for a spring crop—corn it the soil be strong enough—or it may be allowed to go to harvest.

SOWING GRASS SEED.—Mr. Cephas Johnson said he had usually made a practice of seeding down to grass with the oat crop; however, any other grain could be used. The ground is put in good condition; then the grain desired to be used is wet up lightly by stirring it up with water and draining so as only the surface of the grain shall be moistened. Then to every three bushels of oats, turn on twelve quarts of timothy seed and one and one-half pounds of clover, and mix thoroughly with the grain. The grass seeds adhere to the kernels of grain, and both can be sown broadcast at one operation. The grass seed is spread very evenly by this method, and is very sure to take. Mr. Johnson thought the grass seed, being in contact with the grain, received considerable nutriment from its decay, and for this reason was sure to take and do well. He remarked that when the land was manured in the spring previous to seeding, he omitted the clover, as his soil was natural to clover, the clover coming in too thickly if seed and manure are used at the same time. Mr. Willard said he had tried the method recommended by Mr. Johnson, and found it to succeed well.—Utica Herald.

HEDGE SETTING HINTS.—Too much importance cannot be attached to puddling the roots of trees and plants in clay mortar just before planting. A farmer in La Salle county set a quantity of Osage Orange hedge plants one day; at night he placed the balance in mud and planted them the next day. The season proved to be a dry one,—the plants set the first day were an entire failure, those planted last made a good stand.

In the ordinary mode of setting hedges, it is very common to lose an occasional plant, leaving a gap very difficult to fill in future. By dipping them in mud, then burying until buds begin to burst, all dead plants can be detected and thrown out and a perfect hedge grown. Plants for hedging should always be assorted into two sizes, setting each size continuously; as when planted indiscriminately the large ones overshadow and kill out the smaller.

Now is the critical period for fruit, and fruit growers should give their trees daily attention. Caterpillars and the curculio may now be destroyed—we have already given several excellent methods of doing so—and the the result will be a large increase in the yield of fruit. The prospects for fruit in this section is good, and those who fall now by neglecting to bestow a little care upon their trees, need find fault only with themselves.

A CORRESPONDENT sends the following remedy for lice in poultry, which he says he has never known to fail: Apply a preparation of wood ashes and boiling water to the roost, say to a pailful of boiling water put enough of good strong ashes to make it of a consistency to be applied with a broom. Always keep dry ashes where fowls have convenient access to it.

MR. BRIGHT, in one of his late speeches, is reported to have said that one-half of Scotland is owned by twelve persons, and one-half of England by one hundred and fifty.

"Are you not alarmed at the approach of the King of Terrors?" said a minister to a sick man.

"Oh, no! I have been living six-and-thirty years with the queen of terrors, the king can't be much worse."

NEW CLOTHING

AT BRINKERHOFF'S.

STACKS OF THEM!

J. BRINKERHOFF, corner of the Diamond and York st., has just returned from the city with an unusually attractive assortment of which he will sell at such prices as cannot fail to take them off very rapidly. Call and judge for yourselves. To look at the excellent material, tasteful cutting, and neat and substantial sewing, and then to get his low prices—calls cannot help but buy, when they see it so much to their interest to do so.

He has Coats, Pants, Vests, all of styles and materials, Hats, Boots and Shoes;

Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Pocket Knives, Segars, Smoking and Chewing Tobaccos, Pipes, Stationery, &c.; Clocks, Watches, Jewelry, with a thousand and one other articles, entirely too numerous to detail in a news paper advertisement.

He asks the attention of the public to his new stock, confident that it will please—and no one can or will sell cheaper. Don't forget the place—corner of York street and the Diamond, Gettysburg.
